

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
1 Regional Histories, Global Processes, Cross-Cultural Interactions Jerry H. Bentley	1
2 From Archaic Globalization to International Networks, circa 1600–2000 C. A. Bayly	14
3 Sufi Brotherhoods: Transcultural/Transstate Networks in the Muslim World John O. Voll	30
4 Cotton: A Global History Sven Beckert	48
5 From Red Crosses to Golden Arches: China, the Red Cross, and The Hague Peace Conference, 1899–1900 Caroline Reeves	64
6 Constructing Africa: African American Writers before Emancipation Colin Palmer	94
7 Migration Control and the Globalization of Borders: China and the United States, 1898–1911 Adam McKeown	109
8 Smuggling and Its Malcontents Alan L. Karras	135
9 Cartographies of Connection: Ocean Maps as Metaphors for Interarea History Kären Wigen	150
10 Chronology, Crossroads, and Commonwealths: World-Regional Schemes and the Lessons of Caucasia Stephen H. Rapp, Jr.	167
11 Regimes of World Order: Global Integration and the Production of Difference in Twentieth-Century World History Charles Bright and Michael Geyer	202
Contributors	239
Index	243