

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Prologue: A Historical Overview of Six Dynasties Aesthetics ZONG-QI CAI	1
Part I: Images and Representations: Painting, Calligraphy, and Garden Construction
1. Replication and Deception in Calligraphy of the Six Dynasties Period ROBERT E. HARRIST JR.	31
2. The Essay on Painting by Wang Wei (415–453) in Context SUSAN BUSH	60
3. Xie He’s “Six Laws” of Painting and Their Indian Parallels VICTOR H. MAIR	81
4. A Good Place Need Not Be a Nowhere: The Garden and Utopian Thought in the Six Dynasties SHUEN-FU LIN	123
Part II. Words and Patterns: Poetry and Prose
5. The Unmasking of Tao Qian and the Indeterminacy of Interpretation KANG-I SUN CHANG	169
6. Crossing Boundaries: Transcendents and Aesthetics in the Six Dynasties RANIA HUNTINGTON	191

7. Literary Games and Religious Practice at the End of the Six Dynasties: The Baguanzhai Poems by Xiao Gang and His Followers	FRANÇOIS MARTIN	222
Part III. The Parameters of Six Dynasties Aesthetics: Modes of Discourse
8. Shishuo xinyu and the Emergence of Aesthetic Self-Consciousness in the Chinese Tradition	WAI-YEE LI	237
9. Nature and Higher Ideals in Texts on Calligraphy, Music, and Painting	RONALD EGAN	277
10. The Conceptual Origins and Aesthetic Significance of “ Shen ” in Six Dynasties Texts on Literature and Painting	ZONG-QI CAI	310
Contributors		343
Index		347