Acknowledgments vii

Prologue: A Historical Overview of Six Dynasties Aesthetics
ZONG-QI CAI 1

Part I: Images and Representations: Painting, Calligraphy, and Garden Construction

1. Replication and Deception in Calligraphy of the Six Dynasties Period
   ROBERT E. HARRIST JR. 31

2. The Essay on Painting by Wang Wei (415–453) in Context
   SUSAN BUSH 60

3. Xie He’s “Six Laws” of Painting and Their Indian Parallels
   VICTOR H. MAIR 81

4. A Good Place Need Not Be a Nowhere: The Garden and Utopian Thought in the Six Dynasties
   SHUEN-FU LIN 123

Part II. Words and Patterns: Poetry and Prose

5. The Unmasking of Tao Qian and the Indeterminacy of Interpretation
   KANG-I SUN CHANG 169

6. Crossing Boundaries: Transcendents and Aesthetics in the Six Dynasties
   RANIA HUNTINGTON 191
7. Literary Games and Religious Practice at the End of the Six Dynasties: The Baguanzhai Poems by Xiao Gang and His Followers   FRANÇOIS MARTIN

Part III. The Parameters of Six Dynasties Aesthetics: Modes of Discourse

8. Shishuo xinyu and the Emergence of Aesthetic Self-Consciousness in the Chinese Tradition   WAI-YEE LI

10. The Conceptual Origins and Aesthetic Significance of “Shen” in Six Dynasties Texts on Literature and Painting   ZONG-QI CAI

Contributors 343
Index 347